

PRIME PATH to the Weekend!

Vol. 1 | October 14, 2022

Good Morning and Happy Holidays!

Happy Thanksgiving weekend! We hope you enjoyed some time with family, friends, or however you choose to celebrate! Check out some of our top stories for the week!

Industry News

Johns Hopkins finds new AI blood test detects liver cancer in study

John Hopkins University announced an AI blood test that was found to detect over 80% of liver cancers in a study.

Read more

Source: Medical Device Network

FDA official discusses benefits, challenges of remote inspections

Remote Regulatory assessments have helped the FDA identify GMP violations, but there are still some challenges with the remote format.

Read more

Source: Regulatory Focus

Medtronic lowers full-year forecast, citing drop in procedure growth

Medtronic has seen a slower than expected recovery from certain procedures, which has lowered their quarterly profit and revenue.

Read more

Source: MedTech Dive

Groundbreaking Mind-Controlled Wheelchairs Help Paralyzed Patients Navigate Obstacles

A study has found a non invasive wheelchair that allows paralyzed patients to control it with their mind to be effective at navigating obstacles.

Read more

Source: Medical Daily

The More Things Change, the More They Stay the Same

MD+DI takes a look at how layoffs in medtech today are similar to how the medtech industry looked in 2013.

Read more

Source: MD+DI

Feel Good Stories

Nano-robot antibodies that fight cancer enter first human drug trial

Scientists in Israel have created the first nano-robot antibodies made for fighting cancer. Successful trials could lead to a massive development in cancer fighting technology.

Read more

Source: BGR

A Baby Boom For Cutest Animal Not Seen in Australia for Decades: 'Feels Like a Modern Jurassic Park'

Eastern quolls have been extinct on mainland Australia since 1967. But they have since returned after being bred in Wildlife Sanctuaries.

Read more

Source: Good News Network

Prime Path Weekly Blog

Handling Rejection – What to Do if the FDA Doesn't Accept Your 510k Application

Check out this week's blogs to find out what to do when your 510(k) application isn't accepted, and why they might reject you in the first place.

Read more

Prime Path News

Happy Thanksgiving and holiday weekend from us at Prime Path!

Sign up/View past newsletters

Share this email with a friend!

Follow Us

Sent to: %EMAIL%

Unsubscribe

%SENDER-INFO-SINGLINE%